STAND-OFF IN NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN S. A. D. #44 BOARD AND ADMINISTRATION ASSN.

Formal negotiations between the M. S. A. D. #44 Administration Association and the M. S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors began on Sept. 23, 1976. During this first session, the M. S. A. D. #44 A. A. chief negotiator, Basil E. Kinney, presented a 21-page typewritten proposal which included a stated purpose of this contract is to foster mutual cooperation, understanding and support to operate an effective program of educational opportunity in the school system of M. S. A. D. #44.

On Oct. 14, 1976, the Board's chief negotiator, Bruce Leet, was not prepared to discuss the M. S. A. D. #44 A. A.'s proposal and offered no counter-proposal, according to James L. Johnston, president of the M. S. A. D. #44 A. A.

On Nov. 4, 1976, during the third formal negotiations session, the M. S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors chief negotiator, Bruce Leet, objected to the presence of an M. S. A. D. #44 A. A. consultant and refused to participate in the negotiations process. Mr. Leet Patricia Hudson, M. S. A. D. #44 Board chairperson, Michael O'Donnell, chairman of the M. S. A. D. #44 negotiations team and members Charles Haegele and Harry Swan Jr., left the session in apparent violation of their legal obligation to "confer and negotiate in good faith."

The M. S. A. D. #44 A. A. little recourse but to file a formal complaint with the Maine Public Employees Labor Relations Board including but not limited to the charge mentioned above.

In keeping with the intent and spirit of the Right to Know Law enacted by the Maine State Legislature and effective in July of 1976, the M. S. A. D. #44 A. A. expressed a desire to participate in open and public negotiations sessions but the Board's agents and negotiations representatives preferred to negotiate in executive session.

The M. S. A. D. #44 A. A. also expressed a desire to establish cooperative ground rules while the M. S. A. D. #44 agents and negotiations representatives preferred none.

Prior to this year only the Telstar Educators Association was formally recognized by the M. S. A. D. #44 Board for collective bargaining purposes. All other M. S. A. D. #44 employee groups except certain supervisory personnel, are now formally recognized as collective bargaining units.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD TO MEET
The M. S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors is scheduled to hold a regular meeting in the Library at Telstar Regional High School, Monday evening, Dec. 6, at 7:30.

PLANNING SURVEY NOW BEING CONDUCTED

The Bethel Planning Board is in the process of conducting a survey of citizens of the town in preparation for the updating of the 1967 Comprehensive Plan. Neighborhood coordinators have distributed the nine-page questionnaire throughout the town, and are responsible for collecting the forms before Dec. 10. If anyone has been overlooked they may obtain a form by calling George Nickerson or Cathy Newell of the Planning Board. Additions to the list of coordinators published last week, include Sue Angevine in Northwest Bethel and Ruby Rolfe on the Flat Road. Residents of Route 222 in Bethel will be receiving their forms in the mail, with a postage-paid return envelope enclosed. The number of surveys printed will be very close to the number needed; if any of the coordinators have extra forms, they should get in touch with Nickerson or Newell. The Planning Board is grateful for the assistance of the coordinators, and for the cooperation of the citizens in this project.

SWINE FLU VACCINE STILL AVAILABLE

Swine flu vaccine is now available in the outpatient department of the Rumford Community Hospital, at no charge, for persons who missed the recent series of clinics. Persons may also receive the vaccine from their private physicians.

Swine flu clinics were completed in the Northern Oxford County area two weeks ago and over 6,200 persons were immunized.

Although this was considered a good turnout, Jacqueline Horner, R. N., director of nurses at the Rumford Community Hospital and coordinator for the Swine Flu Immunization program, said there are many more persons in the area who should be immunized against a possible outbreak of Swine Flu this winter. These persons are encouraged to go to the hospital or their physicians for these shots.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Airport Advisory Committee met Nov. 30 and discussed a variety of items. The alternatives of utilizing or disposing of the one remaining hangar owned by the town and the whole area of airport insurance were discussed.

The committee decided to hold a public hearing in early December to accept guidance and recommendations of citizens regarding the future of the airport. The date, time, and place of the hearing will be announced in the paper.

Also discussed was the issue of security at the airport. During the last month, there have been a number of cases of airplane fuel being stolen from planes stored at the field. The committee will be making recommendations to the Selectmen regarding improved lighting and the limiting of access to the field. The committee is also in the process of developing a recommendation for the 1977 airport budget.

On Wednesday night, Nov. 17, the Community Safety Advisory Committee held a regular meeting. The committee decided to hold a public hearing after the committee has formulated possible solutions to problems. The purpose of the meeting will be to gather input from citizens regarding problems and solutions.

The committee also discussed meeting with some of the individuals accused of creating disturbances on Main Street. This would provide an opportunity for input on their part as well as possible additional insights into the problems and possible solutions.

The "Reduce Crime in Your Neighborhood" ad appearing in the Maine Sunday Telegram on Nov. 14, 1976, was discussed. The committee felt there was a need for improved community awareness and education.

Considerable time was also spent discussing possible solutions to the loitering problem.

The Board of Assessors met Monday night, Nov. 20, and Tuesday night, Nov. 30, to continue work of reviewing individual concerns regarding valuations.

The Board of Selectmen will meet Monday night, Dec. 6, at the Town Office with the Newry Selectmen to discuss the Bethel Newry Town Line.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET THIS EVENING (THURSDAY)
A reminder that the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society will be held this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m. in the meeting room of the Moses Mason House. Please bring if possible an item that might have been enjoyed in a bygone Christmas. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is always welcome.

DAMAGED BY FIRE — The ell part of the Stanley home on the Middle Intervale Road was virtually destroyed by fire last Friday morning. The main part of the house suffered comparatively little damage, thanks to the efforts of the Bethel Fire Department, responding to the 8:30 alarm.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanley occupied the ground floor of the destroyed section, with Mr. and Mrs. Kent Stanley living upstairs. Nearly all personal belongings and furnishings in the ell were lost, with only a few clothes being saved by Mrs. Kent Stanley.

The older part of the house not destroyed in the blaze dates back to the late 1700's.

"RED LANTERN" DESTROYED BY FIRE FRIDAY MORNING
The Red Lantern snack bar was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last Friday morning, Nov. 26. The property was acquired by Harold J. Connors of Rumford from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Merrill of West Bethel who built the Red Lantern in 1966 and operated the business until selling it last summer.

The Bethel Fire Department answered the alarm that was sounded at about 3:30 a. m.

SKI TOURING CENTER OPENS WITH SKI WAXING CLINIC

Sunday River Ski Touring Center located at Sunday River Inn will open for business Saturday. The first event of the season at the Center will be a cross country ski waxing clinic which will emphasize the two techniques required to wax the synthetic touring skis that have recently appeared on the market in large numbers. The clinic will begin at 10 a. m. and is open to all interested ski touring enthusiasts free of charge.

David Coleman and his wife Terry have recently returned to Sunday River with their daughter Sarah to direct the operation of the Touring Center for Steve and Peggy Wright, owners and managers of Sunday River Inn. David feels that the extra trail grooming that was done this fall will enable tourists to get out on the trails sooner than ever. Another added feature that is certain to be well received this year is a trailside lunch shelter located at a particularly scenic spot on the 25 mile long trail system maintained by David and his trail crew.

Sunri Ski Shop of Bethel, maintains a large inventory of touring skis, clothing and accessories for sale at the Touring Center as well as a full stock of rental equipment for skiers of all ages. Area use fees at the Center will be the same minimal charges as last year. Use fees are used by the Center to meet the cost of maintaining the trails in the top condition that has brought wide acclaim throughout the Northeast.

Barry Bodwell has returned to U. of M. Preque fall, after spending the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bodwell.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Colliste Morgan, Corres. —

November bids us good-bye. Its mippy air has foretold, not so much the death of Nature but that soon every field and hill will wear a new dress, a newly transfigured form. I feel no melancholy about the autumn season. Like others the fall has its beauty. Now with its leaves gone, branches bare, the woods are full of light. The view is wider and the evergreens more soothing to the eye. The structural designs of deciduous trees shows perfect symmetry. There's a mist which gathers like faint blue smoke. There's the breath of fallen leaves. The gray-blue sky bends low. The forest solitude spells NOVEMBER.

Ruth and I walked in the road down the valley this week to see it all.

The reluctant oaks still cling to their leaves. Looking up the hillside the trees have a hair-cut look, appearing smooth and even against the sky. When one climbs high up it can be seen that all are of different years of growth and of varying height.

The air was crisp and cool without being chill.

At the lower end of Big Pond we could hear the water angling down the mountain side and leaping over the falls across from us, somewhere under the pines, bending beneath the wind. This November wind is almost as restless as the March winds. But there is a difference in the direction.

I watched a crow go winging past. With the different background, he seemed much blacker than during the summer days. The crows and jays help to keep the landscape lively. If the jay migrated, and stopped here only briefly we'd probably think more of it and we might call it some exotic bird. It is pretty until it opens its big mouth and talks in its rasping voice. It quarrels incessantly with its own kind. But it does have beauty and an immaculate appearance. AND it does have frivolous moments when it plays among the branches uttering a whisper of a song.

The sumac candles glowed in bunches by the road side and we spoke of gathering some of them but we didn't.

The tamaracks across Mud Pond stood like yellow candles, the only conifer to "hibernate!" They were tall and slender and about to shed their yellow needles for the winter.

The silent scene before us, we have viewed many times and we stopped to look over the wide amphitheater with its forms of trees. Another experience receded behind us as we turned to go home.

What fun is there in walking the same trails? They are always different for every country path however familiar, has its daily, or moment-to-moment, variety. The light that we see in the woods is different from what it was just a few moments before. The colors change, light changes, shadows change. Until you have walked, the magic of it remains a mystery. But until you have felt the rhythm of walking, and witnessed the changing scenes, you do not know.

— Mrs. Alice F. Hoyt, Corres. —

Mrs. Pearl Cole is out of the hospital and at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Bear. The following is her address: Mrs. Pearl Cole, 658 Allegheny Dr., Sun City Cir., Florida 33570.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Ring were Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Glines, John and Jonathan, from Danbury, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ring, Donna and Alan, Freeport.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farnum were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt, Jim and Bobby, and Mr. and Mrs. John Chase, Richard, Andrew and Crystal, Locke Mills, and Althea Stevens, Bethel. Others for supper were JoAnn Hoyt and Francis Hoyt.

Do you like good music. Be sure to watch TV, channel 8, on Dec. 9 (Thursday) at 9 p. m. The World of Life Bible Institute will present the program "Let Freedom Ring."

Be sure to tune in.

Sunday guests at the home of Stanley and Gertrude Andrews for their family "Thanksmas Day" were: Muriel and David Richard and Ronnie of Wilton; David Barker and Devon Andrews, Tony and Linda Andrews and Delsey, Steve and Linda Hakala and Seth, all of West Paris; Elinor and Tim Roberts, Holly and Heather, of Welchville; Bethany and Brian Bean, Lance and Lori of Byron; Mary Ellen Andrews, Burton and Louise Newton, Colleen Andrews, all of Bethel; Lonnie Hindeley of South Woodstock; Charles and Patricia Verrill of Norway. A turkey buffet was served and Christmas gifts exchanged. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will be leaving for Largo, Fla., on Wednesday, Dec. 1, for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dunner, Jr. and Melissa of Stoneham, Mass., will be living at the Andrews' residence for the winter months.

what you are missing. Once you have felt the refreshment of mind and body, you have discovered a lasting pleasure. The walker can be his own pilot in a private ship on a private sea. A short brisk walk brings you back with energies renewed, minds cleared, and shadowy anxieties removed. It's a psychological holiday. Try it.

After spending the holidays here, David and Sharon Holt returned to their home in Princeton on Sunday.

Club Eight met with Etta Morris on Tuesday afternoon. The hostess prize was won by Fay Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nottage, South Paris, called on us, and on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis on Saturday.

Fay and Ann Holt and I went to Portland to do some shopping on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hakala entertained a large group of relatives for dinner on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hayes, New York, brought their parents home on Wednesday and stayed for the week end. They had a nice trip, traveled over 5,000 miles, visited 17 states and had good weather all the way. Others of the family joined them on Saturday for dinner.

Glenn Hayes and friend Mr. Belmont of Greenville were at the Hayes Homestead on Friday to do some hunting.

Sunday afternoon a meeting was held to formally organize the North Woodstock Community Club. Officers were elected as follows: President, Clyde Knights; V. P., Richard Fraser; Treas., Jackie Knights; Co-treas., Sonja Davis. By-laws for the organization were discussed but it was decided to wait until next meeting before writing any down. Clyde Knights will see about getting papers for a social security number and papers for non-profit organization. Next meeting will be held once these papers have been made out and filed. Also discussed was the cost of work to be done on the inside of the Chapel. We hope we now have enough money to cover the repair. Also discussed was the tremendous rise in the light bill over the last year. There was a small turnout for the meeting and we truly hope more will turn out next time especially the men in the neighborhood none of which were there this time.

—Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres.—

Seemed like it had been a very short winter when the rain and very warm air moved in but that tricky old man was just taking a deep breath. He blew out several inches of snow followed by rapidly dropping temperatures beginning Sunday night.

A trailer truck loaded with lumber backed down over the bank on Brooks Hill Monday due to icy road conditions.

Leslie Aron is visiting relatives and friends in Connecticut this week.

Mae Pederson is spending a few days with her sister in Pennsylvania.

Carol Greenleaf called on relatives in town Saturday. He asked for many people he knew formerly and recounted some humorous stories about some. He was especially interested in news of Daisy Warren. So many people ask about her and never a remark but shows admiration and respect. She is certainly one of the loveliest flowers God planted in his earthly garden.

GRAMP LEARNED

A few days ago my grandfather was called to go home. While here with us Gramp made many friends, who now with his family are sad by his death. We'll shed tears for awhile, but each will soon realize that Gramp went home the way he had planned.

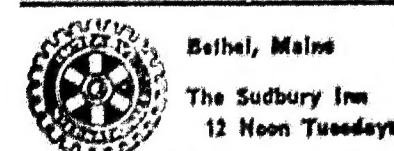

He was a great man. He worked hard all his life and was blessed with a beautiful wife and family. But God saw that Gramp's time on earth was no longer necessary for he had his place in Heaven prepared. For me and the other grandchildren and great grandchildren we will never forget what a great Grampa he was to us.

I'm going to miss hearing his voice saying, "Deity, did you get a gold one today?" But I'll hear it when I join you in Heaven. I love you and miss you, Gramps.

Your loving granddaughter, Sheri

TELSTAR SCIENCE STUDENTS

TAKE PART IN

NATIONAL SURVEY

When the American Health

Foundation asked, students at Tel-star Junior High School answered.

Ninety students in Richard Roy's and Tim Kersey's junior high science program recently took part in a nationwide teen health survey. The survey, sponsored by the American Health Foundation and

"Current Science" magazine, will provide health researchers with information about the health of junior and middle school students. "Current Science" subscribers in all parts of the country are taking the survey. The survey is expected to provide health researchers with baseline data for evaluating the health of the young teenager in this country.
